5 Steps to WINTER WELLNESS

A SIMPLE GUIDE TO HELP YOU STAY FIT AND HEALTHY, SUPPORT THE IMMUNE SYSTEM AND REDUCE THE RISK OF INFECTIONS THIS WINTER.

1. Eat the rainbow

Your immune system relies on a healthy and varied diet. Eating a variety of fruit, vegetables, herbs, spices, nuts, and seeds can help maintain your immune system. Try eating foods rich in vitamins B6, B12, C, and D and minerals like zinc and folic acid, which work to help support your immune system.

2. Up your Vitamin D

Did you know vitamin D is important for maintaining a healthy immune system? Vitamin D is found in foods such as oily fish, cheese and egg yolks. Supplements are also a great way to maintain healthy levels.

3. Don't forget Vitamin C

We often reach for the orange juice when unwell, but do you know why? Vitamin C can help support the function of the immune system. Found in oranges, red and green peppers, broccoli, strawberries, and potatoes. Adults aged between 19-64 need 40mg of vitamin C daily - the same amount found in half an orange.

4. Get good rest

A good night's sleep can help reduce daily stress levels and strengthen your immune system. When we sleep our immune system releases cytokines to help the body fight inflammation and infection. If you wake up tired and spend all daydreaming about taking a nap, you're probably not getting enough sleep.

5. Step outside

Getting outside can do wonders for our mental and physical well-being. Regular exercise can give a boost to your immune system and it doesn't have to involve running miles. Find something you enjoy doing such as walking the dog or a bike ride - even dancing is a great way to get moving! Exercise can help improve our lymphatic system, which carries white blood cells to help fight infection. It is recommended that you get 150 minutes of exercise per week.
